WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—With French-American diplomatic relations strained almost to the breaking point, the United States government, it was learned today, is considering cancellation of special trade arrangements with French North African colonies as a result of what is regarded as the Vichy government's "sell-out" to Nazi Germany.

Limited Trade
The American government, in the face of considerable opposition from Great Britain, has been maintaining limited trade relations with French North African colonies in the hope of persuading General Maxime Weygand, commander of the French African forces, to resist pressure for complete collaboration with the Axis.

Under the special trade arrangements, this government has permitted the shipment of necessities, including oil, to the French African colonies.

It now is believed that Weygand, who was present at the Vichy meetings which led to the delegation of vast powers to pro-German Vice Premier Admiral Francois Darlan, acquiesced to the new collaboration agreement.

If the study now being made of the situation by the state department proves such to be the case, this government, it was indicated, will suspend the trade arrangement with the North African colonies.

Stores To Observe Dollar Day Friday

"Dollar Day" will be observed Friday, August 15, by 48 New Castle stores—in time to help shoppers buy merchandise at prices which government and trade leaders warn may begin to climb almost any day now.

Shelves of all the mercantile establishments are bulging with fresh stocks which the New Castle housewife—and her hubby—will find most tempting at this time. Newspapers chronicle Washington messages every day about possible higher prices because of urgent defense measures, so wise buyers will stock up just in case.

Probably never have the offerings of the stores been so attractive. Leaders of the Retail Merchants' association, sponsor of the special sales event, said:

One prominent merchant said: "We're making gala plans for this Friday's Dollar Day sale. We don't know when we've ever had more to place on the counters at sharply-cut prices."

Governor Of New Jersey
Asks For Chance To Let
State Settle Strike

(International News Service)
KEARNY, N. J., Aug. 13.—Former Navy Secretary Charles Edison, now governor of New Jersey, intervened today in the CIO strike of 17,000 employees of the Kearny shipyards of the Federal Shipbuilding & Drydock company, with a plea to his successor, Frank Knox, not to take over the yards pending efforts by the state to settle the dispute.

Telegraphs Knox
Gov. Edison sent his telegraphed plea to the navy secretary as Knox prepared to confer in Washington for a second day with L. H. Kornford, president of the company, who on Monday asked the government to take over the plant in the interest of national defense. Two two-hour conferences between Kornford and Knox and other high government officials yesterday failed to produce any action.

Edison's wire to Knox, in part, read:

"When labor and capital complement each other, the government to take over industrial plants, they are contributing to the creation of a system which will destroy the very

Mercury Slumps To 49 At Allegheny County Airport,
Kane Reports 32

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13.—The mercury slumped to an official 49 at the Allegheny county airport today for the coldest August 13 in the history of the weather bureau. The previous record was 53 set in 1930.

Weatherman W. S. Brotzman said the thermometer showed 42 at his home in Brookside Farms and that other outlying places reported temperatures a little above 40.

Clear, moderately cool weather was predicted for tonight and tomorrow. Today's peak temperature will be about 80 and tonight's around 50, it was said.

A mass of polar air causing northerly winds is bringing a foretaste of autumn throughout the Ohio and upper Mississippi valleys, Brotzman said.

A low of 32 degrees was reported at 6 a. m. by the Spring Water company near Kane. A slight frost accompanied the lowest temperature of the season, it was said.

Moscow continued stubbornly to deny all German claims and insisted that Russian troops were holding firm. The third mighty Nazi offensive has been stemmed, the Red army high command said, and comparative quiet exists along the

Descendants Of Pioneer
Families Look Forward
To Annual Gathering

COMFORT OF OLD
FOLKS ARRANGED

With the 35th annual reunion of the Old Timers' Association of Lawrence county at Cascade park just one week hence, descendants of pioneer families here are looking forward to the one time of the year when they can gather and renew the pleasant days of their boyhood and girlhood when New Castle was just a village, and it took as long to go to Harrisburg or Wampum by horse and buggy as it does to go to Pittsburgh now by auto.

Merchants of the South Side have been cooperating with the committee in charge of the reunion by arranging some attractive window displays, showing old time relics, pictures, quilts, etc. Several of the merchants in the main business section of the city are also planning displays, which will be arranged within the next few days, show antiques that were used right here in Lawrence county by pioneer residents, when most of the county was but a wilderness.

Display Relics
People who have articles to display are asked to take them to these merchants who have customarily displayed them in the past. Fred P. Butz is in charge of the uptown section and Mrs. Maude Whinnery Hamilton and H. J. Clark in the South Side section.

The comfort of the older folks is one of the first concerns of the committee in charge of the arrangements, and they will see to it that plenty of seats are on hand which will be roped off for the convenience of the bona fide Old Timers. Miss Margaret F. Bodenstein, executive secretary of the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, will have a first aid station in charge of trained workers at Cascade.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 13.—Gov. Arthur H. James has vetoed $50,989,723 in general appropriations voted by the 1941 General Assembly, a survey by International News Service disclosed today.

This money would have been expended from the state's general fund, from which all normal operating expenses of the government are paid out, and does not include still additional vetoes of appropriation from the motor license fund. The latter is a revolving fund whose revenue is derived from motorists' registration and operators license fees and used for highway construction and maintenance.

Before leaving yesterday on his vacation, Governor James vetoed 25 appropriation bills outright and reduced the amounts in 26 other bills approved by the legislature. If the appropriations had been allowed to stand they would have boosted to WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—President Roosevelt today signed a bill permitting Secretary of Navy Knox to set up a special plain clothes force to combat threats of espionage and sabotage in naval shore establishments.

The measure also permits appointment of a $7,500 a year civilian to head the new special protective force, and authorizes expenditure of $1,000,000 annually to maintain it.

In testimony urging passage of the bill, naval officials declared that such a force was essential to guard properly vital naval secrets and protect construction work at naval yards.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Horses began to make a "comeback" today in Chicago, with two square-built Belgian mares leading the way.

The mares were hitched up to a wagon which replaced a motor truck along one of the routes operated by the Keeshin Motor Express service—and more horses will replace more trucks of the company until possibly all the company's "trucks" will be horse-drawn.

J. L. Keeshin, president of the service, explained:

"Tires are going up. Truck repairs are becoming more costly, and it is getting difficult to obtain parts. Gasoline is expected to rise—but there's plenty of oats."

"We thought we could economize with horses. If the experiment is successful, we will send several teams to New York where the gas shortage is becoming troublesome."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Still breathless over the narrow margin by which the house passed the service extension bill for the army, administration leaders today virtually abandoned plans for legislation to allow dispatch of draftees and National Guardsmen beyond western hemisphere boundaries.

The narrow escape from defeat sustained by the service bill—passed by the house last night by only one vote, 203 to 202—caused them to concede privately that it would be suicidal to seek authority for another A. E. F. "now."

Plan Sidetracked
Legislation to lift the overseas ban was requested at the same time the administration asked for the service measure but was temporarily sidetracked by congressional leaders for fear it would jeopardize the whole program.

The date of the next meeting will be announced later, Potter states.

Bring out those woolen blankets, dig out those heavy hose, if this keeps up the summer's gone, look out for frost and snows. And what about the gardens and what about the crops, if frost comes round get out your gun and call a flock of cops. So listen, Mister Weatherman, don't do that thing tonight, don't let us wake up in the morn and find the gardens white. Bring on some balmy summer nights, and let the warm wave through, we don't need frost for weeks and weeks, the weather's seventy-two.

Last night the weather was cool seemed like fall, and we had to get out some extra bedclothes, to keep us "comfy."

The weather man gave county residents quite a scare this morning when he sent the mercury too close to the freezing point. The official temperature here was 42 degrees, but in some of the colder regions of the county, temperatures only a few degrees over the freezing mark were noted.

The bottoms and tops of ladders on the service and aerial truck at Central station have received a fresh coat of white paint, instead of the usual black. The ladders will be more noticeable, especially at night.

R. A. F.-Reds Rake Berlin With Bombs

Nine Nazi Cities Feel Raider Wrath

Britains And Russians 'Take Turns' Dropping Bombs On Nazi Capital

RAID IS COSTLY IN PLANES LOST

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Striking through fog and rain, large fleets of British bombers during the night dropped heavy loads of bombs on Berlin and attacked at least nine other important centers in the Reich, the air ministry announced today.

Foul Weather

Unwilling to let foul weather halt the momentum of their renewed aerial offensive, the R. A. F. assaulted Magdeburg, Hanover, Essen, Stettin, Kiel, Bremen, Osnabruck, Duisberg, Cologne and several unspecified places in addition to the German capital.

Due to the weather, the air ministry said, "the attack on Berlin was not on such a big scale as some of the previous raids. Nevertheless, heavy loads of bombs were dropped on the city."

Take Turns

In hammering at Berlin, the British air force "took turns" with the Russians, who had attacked the German metropolis on the two previous nights.

Nazi planes also resumed their blows against Britain, carrying out small-scale raids. Bombs were dropped at a number of points in the Midlands and East England, but the air ministry said there was little damage and few casualties.

Berlin admitted the R. A. F. raid, but said the attacks on the Reich were carried out at tremendous cost to the British. The Germans put British plane losses in the last 24 hours at 57, including 26 bombers.

According to the German version, a small number of bombs was dropped in the outskirts of Berlin. Other R. A. F. planes penetrated northern and western Germany. Nazi authorities said explosive and incendiary bombs caused "insignificant damage." A few persons were killed and others wounded.

Follows Russians

The R. A. F. raid on Berlin followed a series of Russian air force attacks on the German capital.

The blow against Berlin, first by the British since a new large-scale campaign started, came on the heels of a record daylight attack on Cologne, with some estimates placing the number of planes involved as high as 1,000.

American-built planes and the dashing new whirlwind type of British fighter planes took a leading part in the Cologne raid, the air ministry announced.

"The greatest number of bombers ever to participate in an attack took part in Tuesday's raid."

"The German defenders were baffled by the multiplicity of the assaults. The knapsack and quadrat power plants at Cologne were hit repeatedly by bombs of great weight."

"Flying fortresses (American-built) dropped their heaviest and most powerful bombs from a great height on railways, airbases and industrial buildings at Emden and Cologne."

"Hundreds of Messerschmitts rose to meet the invaders, but the low-flying bombers were escorted by our fighters, and the flying fortresses were too high to be reached quickly."

Britain admitted that the raid was costly in planes. Twelve bombers and eight fighters were shot down, while the German losses were put at four planes.

has been halted. The early morning bulletin said: "There is nothing of importance to report from any front."

The midday statement from Premier Josef Stalin's headquarters added: "There was nothing of importance on the fronts during the night of August 12."

Beat Off Raid

"Our ground and air defenses frustrated a Luftwaffe attempt to raid Leningrad."

The brief announcements contrast significantly with communications of the last few days, which told of furious fighting on six fronts—north and south of Leningrad around Smolensk in the central zone northwest and southwest of Kiev and in the Uman sector of the Ukraine.

A supplementary communique said the "68th German Division has been annihilated after a long battle."

Fighting around an unnamed railway station, said the statement, "the Germans lost 7,500 soldiers and officers killed or wounded."

"They also lost 15 tanks, 27 guns of various calibers, three anti-aircraft guns, 24 mine-throwers, 70 machine guns, 600 automatic rifles and much other material."

German raiders once more attempted to raid Moscow during the night, but the Russians said night fighter planes and anti-aircraft fire broke up the Nazi formations and kept any German craft from reaching the capital.

HOUSE PASSES ACT ADDING 18 MONTHS TO DRAFT SERVICE

now have little chance of altering the verdict of the senate and house in passing the bill to add a year and a half to the service of draftees. National Guardsmen, reservists and army regulars.

This bitterly fought measure now goes back to the senate for concurrence or rejection of some minor amendments written into the legislation by the house before it passed the bill last night.

Senate To Agree

It was predicted on Capitol Hill that the senate would agree quickly to the house's version of the measure to keep in additional service the 600,000 selectees, 250,000 guardsmen and 700,000 regulars.

If the senate insists on its own writing of the bill, however, the matter would have to go to a conference between the two houses, and the lower chamber then would get a chance for another roll call when the report of the conference was presented.

Since the bill won house approval by the narrowest possible margin, 203 to 202—it was openly predicted that leaders would not ask another test in the lower branch if it possibly could be avoided.

Leaders declared that a majority of senators probably would accept the house bill—differing only in minor details from the senate version—and send it to the White House for President Roosevelt's signature by the end of the week.

House passage of the bill came after a dramatic climax to a day and a night of heated debate during which all non-interventionist drives to exempt draftees from the extension and to reduce the time down to six months were beaten.

Dramatic Hush

During the final roll call a hush fell over the chamber as members kept tallying saw the matter was nip and tuck. When the last name was called, the tally stood 204 to 201. Rep. Somers (D) N. Y., however, changed his vote from yes to no.

Veteran legislators said that never in their memory had so important an issue—involving the fate of thousands of men—been decided by a single vote.

The bill would give the president authority to keep draftees, Guardsmen, reservists and regulars in service for an additional 18 months would remove the existing restriction limiting the total number of draftees to 900,000, and would provide a $10-a-month pay raise for all soldiers after 12 months of service.

"We made as hard a fight as we could," Rep. Short (D) Mo., leader of the opposition, declared. "I expect the senate will accept the house bill and send it to the White House and that unfortunately, will end everything but the shooting."

Deaths of the Day

Dr. Samuel M. F. Nesbitt.

Word was received in this city Tuesday afternoon of the sudden death of the Rev. Samuel M. F. Nesbitt, D.D., who passed away at his home in Wooster, Ohio. Dr. Nesbitt's health had been failing for the last few years, his death at this time was unexpected. He had been around the house the previous day and was reading a paper Tuesday morning when stricken with the heart attack which resulted in his death.

Dr. Nesbitt was pastor of the Central Presbyterian church in this city from 1914 to 1920 and will be remembered as a man of sterling Christian character, of most unusual sympathies, and an indefatigable worker for the upbuilding of the Christian church everywhere he served.

He was born on a farm near Salsburg, Westmoreland county, Pa. In early youth, his mother died and he was raised by his stepmother, who at the age of 92 still survives him in Salsburg. He was educated in the public schools of that community and later was graduated from Grove City college. His theological work was taken in the Western Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh, and he was honored by Grove City college with the Doctor of Divinity degree.

With the exception of his pastorate in New Castle, Dr. Nesbitt's ministry was centered in the Synod of Ohio. Serving the Presbyterian churches of Fraziersburg, Pataskala, and Dennison in succession, his work attracted the attention of the Central Presbyterian church of this city and in June of 1914 he began his six year pastorate in this city.

In January of 1920, he returned to Ohio and took up the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church of Wooster. This church he continued to serve until declining health compelled him to retire several years ago. During this time he was also secretary of the board of trustees of Wooster College, and served in addition a term as moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of Ohio. Under his leadership, the Wooster church expanded in every way, soon outgrowing its church home. This brought about the erection of one of the most complete and beautiful stone churches in the Synod of Ohio. With auspicious services it was dedicated and opened for service free from debt, and stands as one of the monuments of Dr. Nesbitt's ministry.

Soon after entering the ministry, he was married to Miss Maude Stranahan of Mercer. He is survived by Mrs. Nesbitt, the following daughters, the Misses Agnes, Lucille and Maudie Nesbitt, and Mrs. Paul Waddell, all of Wooster. He is also survived by his stepmother, Mrs. Robert Nesbitt, and one sister, Mrs. Rose of Salsburg.

Funeral services will be held in Wooster on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock (E.S.T.).

Mrs. John C. Bridges

After a long illness, Mrs. Florence Emily Clark Bridges, aged 43, wife of John C. Bridges, 1724 Pennsylvania avenue, passed away this morning at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Bridges, born in New Castle on November 16, 1897, daughter of Frank J. and Emma S. Keith Clark, had spent all her life here, and for 29 years had been married to Mr. Bridges, who survives her. She was a member of Central Christian church.

Survivors, in addition to her husband, are the following children, Mrs. Ella Mae Marshall, Mrs. Doris Brightshue, Miss Ruth Bridges, William Bridges, Alfred Bridges and Charles Bridges, all of New Castle; the following brothers and sisters, Earl Clark, Paul Clark, Herman Clark and Mrs. Margaret Kelly, all of New Castle; and a brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Wilk, Euclid, O.

The body has been removed to the Ritchie funeral home, South Mill street, where the family will receive friends this evening and Thursday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Funeral arrangements are not completed.

Mrs. Apolina Kolik

Mrs. Apolina Kolik, aged 73, passed away at her home in Chewton, this morning at about nine o'clock.

The obituary and funeral arrangements will be published in Thursday's News.

Major Services

Largely attended funeral services for Franklin P. Major, Beaver Falls, were conducted Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock from the Marshall funeral home, Wampum, with Rev. J. Greer Bingham, pastor of the Wampum Presbyterian church, officiating.

Pallbearers were E. R. Gilder, A. S. Kornman, Harold Hudson, William Ardnt, W. C. Musick and William Powell, all of Beaver Falls. Interment was in Clinton cemetery.

"The choice which faces the men and women motorists of Pennsylvania is very simple and direct. In this time of emergency they can either reduce their consumption of gasoline voluntarily, or submit to compulsory rationing."

Labor Losses

Labor can't but help lose a measure of its freedom if the shipyards becomes a branch of the armed forces, Edison pointed out in the wire. A tragic loss in ship production, he said, would result during the period when the navy was moving officers from other vital positions and a new production management team was being formed at the shipyards.

Work on $450,000,000 worth of war and cargo vessels has been at a standstill since the calling of the strike last Wednesday midnight by the CIO's industrial union of marine and shipbuilding workers over the issue of the closed shop. Korndorf, taking the position that the closed shop would impair the rights of American workers as well as injure defense production, offered the plant to the navy.

waife, and a 4,000 ton transport ship and two Soviet destroyers off the Crimean coast.

Pursuing Russians

"Fast-moving divisions are hotly pursuing the Russians in the Ukraine, who are retreating to Black Sea ports. Heavy losses are being inflicted on the Russian rear guards."

Amplifying this, military spokesmen said that Germany's "nutcracker pressure" against Odessa was steadily increasing. The vital port has already been isolated from the east by Nazi panzer divisions pushing from the northwest Landspat.

With mobile German units rushing to all important points along the Dnieper to intercept the fleeing Russians, the Nazi air force is going "all out" against the retreating foe. Military circles in Berlin expressed belief that the majority of Russian troops in the southern Ukraine are doomed.

SENATOR GEORGE WOULD CONFISCATE MARTINIQUE ISLE

tinique to prevent possible Nazi occupation, according to Sen. Walter F. George (D) Ga., former chairman of the senate foreign relations committee.

"It increases the probability that we may face the necessity of anticipating German occupation of French territory in the western hemisphere, particularly if there is any evidence that they intend to exercise any sort of joint control," George said.

He pointed out that any threatened transfer of western hemisphere territory would make operative the Pan American convention refusing to recognize the transfer and "we might speedily occupy such French territory as Martinique."

Petain "Tragic"

Sen. Tom Connally (D) Tex., who succeeded George as chairman of the foreign relations committee termed Marshal Henri Petain's announcement as "tragic" and a "deliberate break with a glorious past."

"Our soldiers in the World War shed their blood to protect France and her institutions, which now has indignantly embraced her former enemy and her recent conqueror."

JAMES WIELDS AXE ON APPROPRIATIONS

almost $700,000,000 the already record-breaking $629,000,000 biennial budget.

The principal appropriation red-pencilled by the chief executive, who took office more than two and one-half years ago on a platform pledged to economy in government, was the $130,000,000 relief bill, from which the governor lopped approximately $25,000,000. The amount deducted is to be utilized to pay the expenses of state administration of county mental hospitals, to relieve counties of the maintenance of indigent insane, to make up a small deficiency in revenue for the last biennium and to pay for the cost of relief expended for last May.

Other Cuts

Other large reductions made by the governor in legislative appropriations included $9,288,619 deducted from the $182,000,000 general appropriations bill, plus an additional $1,534,500 taken from the $23,301,336 supplement.

The governor vetoed outright a $9,500,000 appropriation from the motor fund to cities, boroughs, towns and first class townships for road maintenance, and lopped $1,500,000 from the $10,000,000 appropriation for second class township roads.

Other motor fund appropriations vetoed outright included $1,000,000 for the construction of a bridge near Tarentum and a similar sum for the repair of streets and roads in western Pennsylvania damaged by flood.

Daily Dozen

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

The idea of blood transfusion is not new.

Crude attempts at transfusion have been made since earliest times.

Most early attempts had severely unfavorable or fatal reactions.

Fifty years ago physicians made discoveries about the blood.

Blood of one species of animal could be given to a like animal.

The blood of different species could not be mixed.

Later they found human blood was divided into four main groups.

Blood from one group cannot be mixed with blood of another type.

The donor's blood must match that of the patient.

Most blood transfusions are given directly from donor to patient.

With proper care, blood may be stored outside the body.

Countless lives are being saved by blood transfusions.

It's the old story. Patriotism can protect itself from its enemies, but only Heaven can protect it from its friends.

WILDLIFE VISITS DOWNTOWN SECTION

When going into the woods, a persons expects to find wildlife, and deprived of it the woods would be a drab place indeed.

A few mornings ago, about 5 o'clock, a bit of wildlife visited the downtown section. As Owen Fox went over the East Washington street bridge, he saw a fine specimen of the night heron, setting on the cement coping.

No doubt this bird had come down the creek, and found a perch to rest for a time, after its night hunting for small water life, fish, crabs, water snakes and tadpoles.

Mr. Fox states that this is unusual, as these birds are ordinarily not so bold as to visit the heart of the city. Normally they are to be found near water where it is quiet, and surrounded by woods.

The Turks keep saying they "understand the true value of German professions of friendship." Better dry up. Those who won't fight shouldn't insult people.

News Briefs From City Hall

When Mayor Charles B. Mayne conducted police court in the City building today, he imposed a fine of $10 upon a man who gave the name of Frank Henry, of East Washington street. According to police headquarters, a report was received from East Washington street that caused Policemen Harry Plimmer and Michael Fazzone being sent to take him into custody. Henry reportedly fled to a porch, then defied the officers to arrest him. The officers, as usual, did not permit this to deter them from their duty, and despite the struggle waged by Henry, he was arrested and in police court was convicted of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Mike Bloomer, 1448 Elm street, Youngstown, who was espied sleeping here without a license, was taken into custody in Long avenue yesterday. He placed a forfeit of $25 for appearance and was fined that amount. The arrest was ordered by Mayor Charles B. Mayne.

Reported favorably from council committee, indications are the ordinance providing for the paving of Cascade street, between Croton and Coolidge avenues, will pass. The distance to be improved is more than 1,600 feet. The work will be performed by private contractor, it was said.

Police here today were requested by state motor police of Greensburg to watch for one Charles Skychuck, 52, who reportedly, in a drunken rage shot his 11-year-old son in the arm last night.

DAY'S WAR DEVELOPMENT

collaboration with the Axis, Berlin quarters charged that the United States was ready to seize the French Caribbean island of Martinique.

The pretext for this seizure, it was declared in Berlin, would be that the island had become a threat to the western hemisphere since France had thrown in her lot with the Axis. The Germans also claimed to have placed the outer ring of fortifications surrounding Kiev and to be within sight of the Ukrainian metropolis.

Great Britain announced that the most widespread aerial offensive of the war had been directed against the Reich by bombers and fighters of the Royal Air Force.

Berlin was one of more than 10 cities bombed by the R. A. F. during the night in spite of bad weather. Heavy loads of bombs fell on the German capital, according to the British air ministry.

Other British air targets were Magdeburg, Hanover, Essen, Stettin, Kiel, Bremen, Osnabruck, Duisburg and Cologne.

Russia reported that 7,500 Germans were killed or wounded when the 68th Nazi division was wiped out in a long battle. A significantly terse Soviet communique implying that the new German drive has failed completely, said merely: "There is nothing of importance to report from any front."

Much To Report

Germany had much of importance to report, however, Berlin said. Panzer forces have slashed their way to the outskirts of Odessa, and all of the rich Ukraine is falling into Nazi hands. Four million Russian soldiers, the Germans said, have been killed, wounded or captured since the invasion of the Soviet Union began.

Washington eyed the international situation with increased misgivings, especially since Marshal Petaín definitely threw France's lot in with Germany. Non-interventionist leaders in the American capital admitted that they have little hope of reversing the House's one-vote margin decision to keep service men in uniform for another 18 months.

The measure, prolonging the service of 600,000 draftees, 250,000 National Guardsmen, and 700,000 regulars, is back in the Senate's hands for anticipated speedy concurrence in mind House amendments.

A big fleet of British bombers whipped Berlin while the German capital's anti-aircraft guns were pointed to the east in readiness for another Russian air raid.

Costly Raid

Berlin said the British attack was carried out at a tremendous cost to the R. A. F., while only a small number of bombers were dropped on the outskirts of Berlin. British plane losses in the last 24 hours were put at 57.

Some German casualties in other British raids on northern and western Germany were admitted in Berlin. The R. A. F. attack on the Nazi metropolis followed a record raid by hundreds of British craft on Cologne in daylight yesterday.

The Luftwaffe dropped the night dropped explosives in the British Midlands and eastern England in small-scale attacks.

German military announcements said that the campaign in the Ukraine was all but mopped up. Fall of the great Black Sea port of Odessa was expected speedily. The rapid drives down the Bug and Dnieper rivers and straight across from Bessarabia said Berlin dealt Russia the "hardest blow she has yet suffered."

At the same time the Germans continued to pound Russian lines both north and south of Leningrad and east of Smolensk.

cade park where they will be prepared to take care of any who might need attention.

Misses Barbara Brimmer and Sally Norris will have charge of the registration booth and will see that the older folks are properly registered, while the committee will see that the Old Timers are directed to the booth on their arrival.

As has been stated before, all couples who have been married for 50 years or more will be honored with special places in the grand march, and they are asked to acquaint the committee of this fact immediately on arriving at the park.

The program of the day will start at 1:30 o'clock, with the grand march getting under way at 2 o'clock.

The executive committee of the Old Timers' Association is composed of Fred B. Sankey, president; Fred L. Rentz, O. H. P. Green, vice president; Fred Paul Butz, treasurer; Herbert S. Kirk, secretary, and R. H. Whaley, R. H. McCann, Richard P. Dana, Frank H. Robinson, Guy J. Wadlinger, James K. Love, Samuel DeGraff Pearson, Alex Crawford Hoyt, George S. Long, S. Reed Megown, Sam H. McGoun, Robert H. Cunningham, Thomas H. Hartman, Harry G. Preston, Louis G. Genking, James Mayberry, J. C. Liebendorfer and Leo G. Griffith.

While the reunion is designed particularly for the older folks, the younger people who are descendants of these pioneer families who came to Lawrence county prior to 1865, are also invited and welcome, and it is the hope of the committee that many of them will attend.

MERCHANT TRIES FRIENDLY SERVICE

ALBANY, N. Y. — Here's a new wrinkle in courtesy, from merchant to motorist, via the parking meter:

A local merchant on a busy street, has a "watcher" deposit coins in parking meters in the absence of motorists whose parking time expires. This practice has avoided many violation tickets and the consequent $1 penalty payments.

The "watcher" leaves an orange card on the windshield to advise the motorist of the courtesy. The card reads: "Dear Motorist: We noticed that your parking meter was about to run out. We did not wish you to get a ticket. We have re-established your time for another hour."

Red Cross Ready To Train People In Defense Work

Various Services Can Be Entered Into By Citizens Of County

W. W. Duff, chairman of defense committee of the Lawrence county chapter American Red Cross, in co-operation with Harry J. Cullford, chairman of first aid; Mrs. J. Glenn Berry, chairman of home nursing and Mrs. William Cosel, canteen chairman, urges local organizations to form classes in these defense programs.

All groups wishing classes should contact the chapter office to receive the necessary details and register their group. Classes will not start until later in the fall but the chairmen are making all preparations for the classes at this date.

Mr. Cullford has a number of trained instructors while Mrs. Berry's program has Mrs. Joseph Dagnon and Mrs. Travis French, the only two registered Red Cross nurses in New Castle who are certified as instructors. In Ellwood City Miss Edith Shrimp is the certified instructor. Mrs. Cosel, herself an instructor, is assisted by Mrs. Harold Glenn. Other nutrition instructors will be certified at an early date.

Mr. Duff points out the need for early enrollment as each instructor will handle only the authorized number of classes and no organization should be without trained people.

Homecoming Week Being Held At Croton Church

Former Minister Is Scheduled To Speak At Special Service Tonight

Services being held nightly this week to mark the annual homecoming program for Croton Methodist church are being quite well attended, it was learned today.

The service tonight, scheduled to begin at 7:45 o'clock, will feature a sermon by a former minister of the local church, Rev. C. C. Mohney, now of Wheatland.

Many persons are expected to attend the former members and attenders night on Friday, as many have already signified their intention of attending.

High spot of the week will be the Harvest Home supper on Thursday evening, scheduled to begin at 5 o'clock.

COMES LONG WAY

Among those who have traveled a considerable distance this year for the annual Old Timers Day reunion at Cascade park, which will take place next week, is Mrs. Mary Watson Lobofish of Oakland, Calif., former school teacher in the county, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Watson of Almira avenue.

Former Pastor To Speak At Croton

Homecoming Week Being Celebrated At Methodist Church; Special Service Sunday

Rev. C. C. Mohney of Farrell, a former pastor of Croton Methodist church, will speak at a worship service in Croton church this evening in connection with the local church's Homecoming Week. Special music has been arranged for this service, also.

On Thursday evening, from 5 to 7:30 o'clock, there will be a harvest home supper, and an interesting social time has been planned for Friday evening, former members night, when it is anticipated that many former members will attend.

Climaxing this week of activities will be the morning service on Sunday, August 17, when the service roll of boys of the church will be dedicated at 10:30 o'clock and there will be a Joash chest pageant.

Last night was Sunday school night with pantomimed Bible stories being presented.

"The offensive proceeds according to plan"—Nazi report. Sounds familiar. New Dealers used to say: "We planned it that way."

Reynoldstowners Meet Next Week

Reservations For Dinner Meeting Must Be In By Friday

GOOD PROGRAM HAS BEEN MAPPED

Former pupils of the old Reynolds school, later the Central School, Pearson street school, and more recently, W. N. Aiken Building, will gather again on next Tuesday, August 19, for the annual school reunion.

The gathering this year will be in the form of a dinner meeting at Epworth church, with dinner being served at 6 o'clock. There will be a reception preceding at 5 o'clock which will take the place of the former school session, which used to be held in the school building.

Former pupils who expect to attend are reminded that reservations for the dinner must be made by Friday evening, August 15, so that the committee will know how many to prepare for. Cards have been mailed to all those names who were in the hands of the committee, but any who attended up to 1910, and who did not receive a card, will be sent an invitation by the secretary, Miss Bessie Durant, of 301 South Ray street if they get in touch with her.

The officers, Anna McGurk, Ella Pollock, Fred L. Rentz, Robert Whaley, Lou Genkinger, Bessie Durant, Ralph Ramsey, and Jim Mayberry are planning a splendid program, which should not be missed.

SCHOOL TOO NEAR THESE BOYS FEAR

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 13.—Charges of malicious mischief were filed today against three juveniles who Saturday almost completely wrecked equipment and furnishings in the Stoney Hill school house, Shenango township. Given a hearing before Probation Officer Clare J. Saylor, this morning, the youths were ordered held for juvenile court. They will be released from the county jail when their parents furnish a bond for damages that were done to the school property.

One of the most enjoyable events of the week will take place on August 14, in the First Christian church on the Diamond, it being the annual Martin Gantz school reunion.

Former pupils and teachers will be served in the church dining room. The business meeting will take place, with officers being elected for the next year. A memorial will be held for the departed schoolmates since the last reunion.

The program of the evening consists of interesting group of entertainers, and it is assured that the program will be one to look forward to.

Of interest, too, is the fact that Herb McIlvenny, of Mahoningtown, will attend. Mr. McIlvenny has been ill for the past two reunions, but will attend this year.

LEGION DELEGATES OFF TO ALTOONA

GROVE CITY, Aug. 13.—Delegates from the local American Post and Auxiliary left today for Altoona, Pa., to attend the annual State Legion convention. Commander P. C. Hassler and Edward Humphrey represented the post, while Mrs. D. S. Feden was the auxiliary delegate. A number of members of both organizations will also attend.

Legion delegates were instructed in the post's position on important defense issues which will feature the convention, at the monthly meeting this week.

Ecclesian Club Plans Activities

Late Summer And Fall Activities Are Being Planned By Ecclesian Club

At the Tuesday evening meeting of the Ecclesian club of St. Joseph's church, future activities for the late summer and early fall were discussed in the club rooms, East Washington street.

The Rev. Fr. Francis C. Streiff, new pastor of St. Joseph's church, was an honored guest, and gave an interesting talk, which was well received. This meeting was the first session of the Ecclesian club to be attended by Father Streiff, since his new pastorate. Rev. Fr. Peter M. Schirra, assistant pastor of St. Joseph's, and spiritual advisor of the club, was also present.

A committee was appointed to sponsor athletic functions to be held during the fall. Joe Factor, Andy Venditto and Joe Ross. It was decided to have weekly social events for the younger members of the club, and Charles Garbett and Leonard Krueger, will be in charge of arrangements.

The club's bowling committee was appointed to arrange the schedule, including Al Klein, David Vogan, Joe Factor, James Barlett and Vic Ross.

Reports were given by the auditing committee, John Smaetana, Andy Venditto and Charles Kelly. September 9 is the date for the next session of the club.

Playhouse Scores With 'Blind Alley'

First-Night Performance Called 'Splendid'; Cast Repeats Tonight

New Castle's initial amateur play of the 1941 season—the Broadway success "Blind Alley"—had its opening in the Cascade Park theater last night.

The sharp temperature drop held attendance down, but leaders of the Provincial Playhouse, sponsor of the stage undertaking, expect much larger crowds tonight and Thursday and Friday evenings.

Tonight's curtain rises at 8:30, the hour it will go up each night.

"The performance was near perfection," Director James W. Sotus said after the performance, "but we expect to improve on it each night. The cast did so splendidly tonight, though." The finest of New Castle talent put the show on.

Guests of the Playhouse organization for the opening were service men in uniform and a group of trainees from the NYA Work Relief Center at Cunningham Park.

Six trim girl ushers in full dress last night lent a typical New England summer theater air to the park playhouse.

Auto Tests Reflect 'Better Times' Here

Times are better now than during the past year were one to judge the class which each Tuesday seeks an operator's license when the State Motor police hold tests in Sampson street.

One hundred and seventy-six were given the examination yesterday and the percentage which passed was greater than that which failed, although this does not always hold true.

According to Corporal Hoover, officer in charge of the examination squad, New Castle is showing more of a "pick up" in the number of applicants than any nearby city.

Corporal Hoover stated that most classes in nearby towns where tests are held have "levelled off," meaning that the peak apparently has been arrived at in those cities.

GRANGE NEWS

MAHONING VALLEY

At a special meeting Monday evening in the Mahoning Valley Grange hall, the Mahoning Valley Juveniles entertained New Wilmington Juveniles in the last of a series of Neighborhood Nights, which have been staged throughout the county.

The ritualistic work was put on by New Wilmington Grange, with Master Duane Johnson presiding, followed by a business session when routine business was transacted.

The program was presented by Mahoning Valley Grange, under the direction of Lecturer Mary Munn, assisted by the lecturer of New Wilmington Grange. A fine entertainment was presented, consisting of musical numbers, a short play, readings and exercises by members of Mahoning Valley with several musical numbers by the New Wilmington youths.

At the close of the program, lunch was served by the social committee of Mahoning Valley Grange.

Congress May Set Up General Sales Tax

Billions Are Needed For Defense Work In United States

Think That American Citizens Should Pay 15 Percent For Federal Use

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Senator Barkley (D) Ky., predicted today that congress may have to resort to a general sales tax to raise funds for the huge defense program.

The senate Democratic leader made his prediction at a hearing of the senate finance committee on the house-passed $3,200,000,000 tax bill.

Discussing the necessity of raising the bill's estimated yield to at least $3,500,000,000, and possibly more, Barkley said:

"We may have to come to a general sales tax. I'm not closing the door to it, but it seems to me that we ought not to come to it until we have to."

It was recalled that Rep. Dougherty (D) N. C., chairman of the house ways and means committee, predicted recently that the next tax bill may contain some form of a general sales tax in addition to a substantial lowering of the personal income bracket.

Meanwhile, Sen. Nye (R) N. D., said today that he will sponsor an amendment to the proposed new tax bill for a specific levy to raise funds for the lease-lend program of democracies fighting aggressor nations.

Make To Pay More

Nye proposed that the American tax payer be made to pay 15 percent of his total federal tax to provide revenue for a fund specifically set aside for war materials under the lease-lend program.

The North Dakota senator, a member of the congressional non-intervention bloc, said that such a tax not only would provide funds specifically for the lease-lend program, "but would bring home to the American people that such a program costs them a lot of money."

Nye said that so long as the American people are required to pay 10 percent of their normal tax load for national defense "a 15 percent tax for the lease-lend program would not be out of line."

Nye put forward his proposal as the senate finance committee continued hearings on the house-passed tax bill, and Chairman George (D) Ga. threw cold water on suggestions for a general sales tax to increase the $3,200,000,000 house bill to at least $3,500,000,000 as requested by the treasury.

George predicted, however, that the committee will agree to lowering the personal income exemptions to $1,500 for married couples and $750 for single persons.

Skilled Labor Shortage Seen

Analysis Of State's Labor Situation Finds Shortage Of Skilled Men

FARM HANDS ARE SCARCE TO GET

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 13.—A general shortage of skilled labor in defense industries was shown today in an analysis of the state's labor supply by the state defense council.

The report, prepared by Dr. C. C. Williams, president of Lehigh University, revealed, however, a general oversupply of labor in construction trades. The survey will be reviewed at a defense council meeting later in the week.

A "considerable labor imbalance" between construction and production workers is apparent, the report stated. The difference also is noticeable in geographical areas where excesses in production lines exist in outlying areas and shortages in large cities.

The report pointed out a decided abundance of skilled forging and welding workers in Scranton, Pottsville, Wilkes-Barre, York, Clearfield, Altoona, Allentown, Butler and Greensburg while a scarcity of workers was prevalent in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Farm Hand Shortages
Confirming reports of agricultural leaders, that a shortage of farm hands exists, the report added that migrating workers are being attracted from farms by wages as much as 50 to 100 per cent higher than prevailing rates back home.

Five possible steps that can be taken to correct present labor imbalance and meet the rapidly rising demands in defense industries were suggested by Dr. Williams.

"1. Less exacting job qualifications regarding age, citizenship, race and union status.

"2. Far-reaching vocational and trades education.

"3. A need for a system of regular reporting on labor activity with a labor section beside the market section in the daily papers.

"4. Adoption of special contracting procedures to make use of 'partly employed' skilled labor found in the 'maintenance' shops of coal mines, silk mills, garages, railroads and other industries.

"5. Special re-training of unemployed men in the anthracite regions, both to increase the defense labor supply and to help solve a serious economic and sociological problem which exists there."

With a great many people finding it difficult to pay their taxes just once, County Treasurer Earl R. Wimer states that he finds a number of occasions where taxes are paid on some properties twice, by different persons, and it causes a lot of grief straightening out the records.

These are cases where people are buying property and misunderstandings occur over who is to pay the taxes.

Tis said that the course of true love never does run smooth. This was found to be too true by a loving young couple who came to the prothonotary's office the other day for a marriage license. The prospective bride was under age and brought her grandmother along to give the necessary consent for minors, but alas, where the parents are living, grandma's "yes" wasn't enough. The girl's mother is away out in California and so the young folks are anxiously awaiting airmail arrival of the mother's consent, sworn to before a California notary public, before they can get the necessary papers. Then they will have to wait the customary three days after that.

Sitting as chancellor, Judge W. Walter Braham heard additional testimony in the action brought by C. W. Knox, David Hairhoger in his own right and in behalf of Carl Hairhoger, over injunction proceedings brought by them against Edward F. Noggle and Earl Noggle, to restrain the latter firm from closing the right of way to a coal mine in the county. No decision has as yet been handed down by the judge but a preliminary injunction was granted on June 30. The action, although a trivial one, has resulted in a great amount of legal flapping.

MEASURING BAKING POWDER
Baking powder should be measured exactly with the standard one level teaspoon. Too much baking powder makes for coarse, dry, crumbly texture and poor volume in the baked product.

Life Termer To Face New Charge

(International News Service)
OIL CITY, Pa., Aug. 13.—District Attorney W. P. Geary, of Clarion, on Tuesday announced he was determined to try Frank L. Dearolph, 43, for the murder of 12-year-old Ronnie Wentling, of near Knox, last December 27.

Dearolph is now serving a life term in Western Penitentiary after pleading guilty last April to the murder of the boy's father, Reuben Wentling, in a night of terror at the Wentling farm during which Mrs. Wentling and her daughter, Elizabeth, 22, were injured.

The Ronnie Wentling case, however, will not be listed for August term of court as continuance has been granted by Judge Harry M. Rimer. Unless Dearolph pleads guilty to the boy's murder, he will be tried later while witnesses are still alive and available to forestall any possible parole action from the original life sentence, Geary stated.

Senior Day Plans Are Now Complete

Members Of Senior Day Committee Dine On Juicy Steaks Tuesday

The plans for the third annual Senior Day at the Castle Hills golf course were completed last night as the members of the committee met and devoured delicious juicy, done-to-the-turn steaks, fried potatoes, salad and trimmings, cooked by Thomas H. "Tommy" Hitchcock.

Senior Day this year will occur on Wednesday, August 27, and indications point to at least 100 men 50 years of age and over enjoying a round of 18 holes and a chicken dinner at Kings Chapel church in the evening.

Plan Enjoyable Day
General Chairman John B. "Jack" Waddington had charge of the meeting that followed the dinner last night and expressed the desire to make this Senior Day this year one of the best that has ever been staged. The following members of the committee met with Chairman Waddington and received tickets to be sold to senior members, T. H. "Tommy" Hitchcock, Mont Magill, W. I. Clarke, W. T. Saul, Dr. W. P. Feich, Dan Reebie, William N. Nunn, Morgan Jones, Dave Aston, Larry Gramling and Charles "Bugs" Walthers. E. E. McGill and Tucker Hochman, other committeemen, were absent.

It was announced that over 100 prizes will be awarded to the golfers, with everybody sharing in the prizes that will be given out at the dinner. The event will start at 12 o'clock noon and last until every man has had an 18-hole round of golf.

Giants Defeat Dodgers Twice

Double Defeat Puts Brooklyn Out Of First Place As Cards Win

FELLER BEATEN FOR THIRD TIME

By PAT ROBINSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Larry MacPhail, the red-headed rip-snorting boss of the Dodgers, probably would be glad to give up all the champagne in his wine cellar today to anybody who could tip him off to a good southpaw.

Larry realizes as well as anybody, and better than most, that a good southpaw is worth his weight in diamonds even if he thinks left-handed. And Larry hasn't one of any description in stock.

Giants Take Two
He had the value of southpaw pitching impressed on him again yesterday when Carl Hubbell and Cliff Melton left-handed his Dodgers out of first place by taking both ends of a double bill, 8-5 and 2-0.

Pennants have been won without southpaws but such winners had a tremendously powerful corps of right-handers. And the Dodgers' right-handers, while good, are by no means overpowering. In fact, Whitlow Wyatt, the ace of the bunch, has shown deciding signs of cracking.

Wyatt lasted less than one heat against the Giants while old Hut staggered through for his 10th victory, largely abetted by his roommate Mel Ott, who drove in six runs with his 20th and 21st homers, Melton completely handiapped the Dodgers in the night-trap, holding them to three hits, and was never in danger.

The sad part of all this from a Brooklyn standpoint was that the largest crowd there in years—an overflow gathering of 39,145 paid—saw the Dodgers lose. That boosted the Dodgers' home attendance to around $20,000 and with 19 more remaining, they are a sure bet to play to at least 1,250,000.

Cards Trim Cubs
Meanwhile the Cardinals were moving a game and a half in front of the Dodgers by coming from behind to trim the Cubs, 8-7. The Cards' own pitching hasn't been too good lately but they have a happy faculty of pulling games out of the fire in the late innings as they did against Bill Lee in the eighth yesterday.

In the only other game in the National the Phils outlasted the Braves, 2-1, in 12 frames when Livingston doubled home the winning run. Over on the other wheel the Yanks got going in the right direction again by blanking the Red Sox, 4-0, behind Smid Chandler's six-hit job and increased their margin to 14 games over the Indians who split a pair with the Tigers.

Feller Is Loser
Al Benton held the Indians to four hits to beat Bob Feller, 2-0, for Bob's third and the Indians' sixth straight defeat. However, with Al Milnar pitching a five-hitter in the night-cap, they chased Johnny Gorsica to win, 4 to 1.

Two home runs by Buddy Lewis good for five runs, gave Dutch Leonard and the Senators an easy decision over the Mackays, 9-3. And the Browns and White Sox battled 14 innings to 6-6 draw before darkness halted the proceedings.

Tennis Tourney To Start Monday

Value Of Farm Animals Shows Sharp Increase

(International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Increases from 11 to 40 per cent in the value of all farm animals, except mules and horses, have been reported by the Indiana State Tax Board.

Thus an Indiana farmer who owned a sow in 1940 worth $15 now can sell the same sow for $21. These assessment figures fixed by the assessors are supposed to be the actual cash value of the animals, so the business man who thinks a ten per cent increase in the value of his business each year is the acme of success still has a lot to learn.

The upward swing in the values of livestock, officials said, directly attributable to the national defense program. Horses and mules have decreased in value because there is little need for them in the defense plan.

The tax board also reported that during the past year the value of the average farm implement jumped from $128 to $132. This indicates that more new farm implements were purchased during the year.

On the other hand, indications were that farmers were keeping their old tractors, because the average value on one type dropped from $220 to $211.

Deaf Mutes Turn Out Water Pump Pulleys For Ford

(International News Service)

ROYAL OAK, Mich.—Leo Kuehn had an idea which he put to work and as a result, he and sixteen other deaf mutes have been given the opportunity of supporting themselves in a gainful occupation from which their affliction would ordinarily bar them.

Up until 1933, Kuehn was employed by the Ford Motor Company as a tool and die maker when he decided that he wanted to apply his knowledge in helping others in the same predicament as himself.

He told his foreman about his plan who in turn mentioned it to Henry Ford.

Ford was impressed and gave him a flying start by offering to purchase all the water pump pulleys he could turn out.

Queen Elizabeth Is Crack Rifle Shot

(International News Service)

LONDON — Queen Elizabeth of England has learned to shoot both with rifle and revolver, it was disclosed today. She is good with either weapon, but like most women shots is better with the rifle.

War department experts coached her, and she practiced daily on the miniature range used by the home guard at Buckingham Palace. She used ordinary British army weapons—a .303 rifle with a tube to take smaller ammunition and the .38 revolver of the type issued to British army officers.

Her sister-in-law, the beautiful Dutchess of Kent, has also been taking lessons and has become an expert revolver shot.

Mindful of war-time possibilities, many English women have taken up shooting in recent months.

Stock Market Firmer Today

Market Develops Firmer Undertone, Changes Are Of Minor Importance

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The stock market developed a somewhat firmer undertone today, but with a number of groups depressed the general list continued to present a somewhat ragged appearance.

Issues of finance companies continued under pressure following the government move to control installment buying. Beneficial Industrial Loan common and preferred and Household Finance each dropped to new lows for the year.

Elsewhere in the market changes were of minor proportions, with plus signs slightly in the majority after a hesitant opening.

Steels led the modest advance from initial levels. Jones & Laughlin, reflecting declaration of its first common dividend since 1931, moved up almost a point to around 26.

U. S. Steel gained a half-point, and Bethlehem recovered almost all of an opening decline of 1/8.

Mail orders shared improved on the better sales of these companies will not be hurt to any marked degree by installment financing curbs.

Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck each advanced about a half-point.

U. S. Gypsum and Union Carbide stood out with gains of a point.

Backward issues throughout most of the forenoon included American Telephone, Loew's Standard Oil of N. J., Texas Corp., Celanese, American Tobacco "B," Liggett & Myers "B" and Eastman Kodak.

Objectors To Army Service At Work In Michigan Camp

Twenty-Two "Conscientious Objectors" Are Quartered In Strange Army Camp

(International News Service)
KALEVA, Mich., Aug. 13.—Here in Kaleva, approximately 300 miles northwest from Detroit, is Michigan's strangest army camp on the northern fringe of the Manistee National Forest range.

An American flag waving from a masthead on the front lawn of a weather-beaten farmhouse and three small tents near the woodshed offer only the slightest suggestion of military life.

On the front porch of the house reads the sign, "Camp Onkema, Civilian Public Service Camp No. 1." The soldiers here are 22 conscientious objectors, the weapons, saws and axes, and the only enemy, mosquitoes and flies. The "soldiers" are serving their year as class 4-E registrants in conservation service in the 1,250,000-acre forest, building roads and clearing brush. Their religious convictions prohibit them from learning the grim warfare business and serving a year in a draft camp.

Work Eight Hours a Day
They have no drill to learn, no formation, no regulations and no bugle call. The "tree troopers" dress in rough clothing and work eight hours per day under the supervision of district forest ranger B. M. Stout of Manistee.

The maintenance cost of $35 monthly is borne by the individual, his family or his church, the government furnishing only tools, tents and necessary materials.

"We like it, sure," said Donald Smith of Royal Oak, Mich. "Most of us fellows are convinced by conscience that bloodshed or anything that might lead to it is wrong," he concluded.

"We believe we are helping more by preserving the forests for future generations," said John Freeze of Mt. Pleasant, Mich. "We love our country as much as anyone else, but we are more useful here doing this work," Freeze added.

Only Michigan Camp
Camp Onkema is the only conscientious objectors' camp in Michigan. It will be abandoned soon for the larger Camp Stronach, former CCC camp, near Manistee. Here the 22 Michigan men will be combined with 125 to 150 registrants from Wisconsin and Illinois.

The country's seven other objectors' camps are at Elk Ridge, Md.; Grottoes, Va.; Lago, Ind.; Magnolia, Ark.; Marietta, O.; Coopers-town, N. Y., and Bluffton, Ind.

"In conference with the law, these registrants are making a big personal sacrifice," said the Rev. Lloyd C. Bikenstaff. "They stand ready at any time to serve as fire fighters or in any other capacity required by forestry officials," he concluded.

(International News Service)

Almira Home Association, New Castle, $5,000; Margaret Henry Children's Home, New Castle, $600.
